

Cramming, Crying, and Craziiness: (And Other Things Your Advisor Will Never Tell You About College)

Ahhh college. Its supposed to be the best four years of your life, but oftentimes it ends up being the four (or five - no judgement) most CONFUSING years of your life. College is when you get to discover yourself and become the person youre supposed to be. But...how exactly do you do that? In this collection of essays well explore the ins and outs of the college experience, dealing with the funny times, the hard times, and everything in between. There wont be a final exam to test you, but we promise youll still learn a lot.
