

Excerpt from Index of the Special Railroad Laws of Massachusetts This volume has been prepared under the authority of chapter 71 of the Resolves of 1870, which directs the railroad commissioners to make analyses, indexes and tables of reference to the charters of the railroad corporations of the Commonwealth, and to all special laws relating to said corporations, with power to appoint a competent assistant for the purpose. Members of the legislature and others, having occasion to refer to such legislation, have been embarrassed with the difficulty of tracing the large number of acts and resolves concerning railroads, beginning with the year 1826, which are printed in the compilation of the Special Laws or the annual series of Acts and Resolves. This index or digest, collating under the name of each company abstracts of all laws relating to it, is designed to facilitate and abridge the labor of investigation which has been hitherto found necessary. The aim has been to indicate the principal matters or points of each act or section with sufficient particularity to direct to the time sources of inquiry.
