

X-Ray, Vol. 9: 1922 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from X-Ray, Vol. 9: 1922 These few meager pages can only tell a part of the story of life at M. C. V. We feel that, if in the future, we can give to the reader a few moments of happiness, as he or she recalls a long-forgotten face or event, we will have accomplished our end. We have realized the futility of trying to do too much and have attempted to tell and portray only the best. What little success we may have attained, is due to the hearty co-operation of all, and we here thank all who have had a share in our labours. If we have failed, we have at least tried, and have given our best. We hope that we have given offence to none, and happiness and pleasure to all. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Forgotten Books uses state-of-the-art technology to digitally reconstruct the work, preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy.
