

Rafiji, a young horse found running wild in South Africa near the Botswana border, is caught and trained to be a safari horse. She tells of her travels and adventures as she encounters wildebeests, zebras, kudus, monkeys, warthogs, rhinos, giraffes, leopards, hippos, red hartebeests, and black sable antelope. This children's chapter book is based on a true adventure. The thirteen pencil illustrations were professionally drawn by Jewel L. Clark to help children under twelve visualize the animals in the story.
